L-1 To Be In Use By Early Summer Flooding Season

New Construction To Join Existing Dikes For Earliest Effectiveness

The western leg of the "U" system of dikes to protect the agricultural area surrounding Lake Okechobee is to be begun immediately and it is planned that effective use be available by early summer.

L-1 contract has been let to Testa Brothers of Cleveland, Ohio on the low bid of $417,550.

Levee 1 is the watermost of the chain of levees which will eventually encircle the productive agricultural area south of Lake Okechobee.

The contract for construction of Levee 7, one of the eastern levees in the chain, was awarded by the Corps of Engineers on 24 November.

Work on Levee 1 will begin at the southeast end, which is about 10 miles directly south of Clewiston, and progress north and west.

The levee will be built of materials excavated from a continuous borrow pit or borrow area along the south or west side of the alignment.

The materials are principally sand, marl, clay, shell and rock. It is estimated that construction of Levee 1 will require approximately 1,380,000 cubic yards of material.

The levee will begin at the point where Bolles Canal, extending north-south, crosses the north-south line of the dike, and extend northward for four miles into township 43-34 from whence it will angle in a general northwesterly direction to the Calooshatchee, following generally existing dikes.

A movement is afoot to abandon the presently authorized line which follows the Bolles Canal, and extend the line southward and thence southward along the Miami Canal.

The engineers are making an effort to completely surround the designated agricultural area and the first and recent, and Congressmen who are members

Hospital Shows More Admissions Last Fiscal Year

More than a thousand patients were admitted to Belle Glade Memorial Hospital during the fiscal year, ended Sept. 30, said Donald D. Parke, superintendent, in releasing the hospital's annual report this week. Six hundred and twenty white patients and 422 Negro patients were admitted, Mr. Parke said. This represented an increase of 40.5 percent over the previous year.

In-patient days totaled 7,616, an increase of about 70 percent. This included a record crop of babies. From 165 obstetrical admissions, 154 babies were born alive, and lost an average of not quite three days apiece.

"Definitely more people are being hospitalized," Mr. Parke said. He added, however, that county-certified admissions were fewer last year, or 34, as compared with 40 in the previous period. These were Visiting firemen from 19 towns in the 5th district of the Florida State Firemen's Association were given bouquets of radiance and small bags of home-grown beans when they toured Belle Glade packhouses last Saturday during their attendance at a 5th district convention here, with the local Fire Department and Auxiliary as hosts.

According to Lawrence E. Will, Belle Glade fire chief and 5th district vice president, the day-long conference Saturday was attended by 92 firemen from towns as far north as Ocala and as far south as Homestead. He estimated that another 40 guests and members of local auxiliaries were present also. Registration at the fire station in the morning was followed by a motorcade to the Glades State Prison Farm, with prison superintendent Cliff Greene and James Baldwin, manager, as guides.

At 1 p.m. firemen, ladies auxiliary members, and guests gathered in a general assembly at the American Legion Hall, where after an invocation by Rev. Robert Ford, Presbyterian pastor here, Mayor W. L. Collins spoke an address of welcome. Chief Henry H. Chase, Miami, made a response on behalf of the visitors.

Set at 4 p.m. Representative B. Elliott, Pahokee, told the gathering what the public expects of its officials and explained state legislative procedures. Afterward, visiting ladies auxiliaries met with the Belle Glade Auxiliary.

During the business session of the 5th district, the district fire chief and chairman of the State Association legislative committee, discussed pending legislation.

Adult To Blame If Minor Drives

A parent's inability to say no to young Johnny's request for the family automobile may lead to difficulties with the law, according to a warning voiced last week by Attorney General Richard E. Byrd.

Byrd, who said that a parent who allows a younger child to drive a car alone can be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Ervin advised Judge G. Bowden of the Ponce de Leon Juvenile Court that the law specifically prohibits any person from allowing a child to drive a car without a license, and that a parent who does so is liable for the child's actions.

MORNING-GLORY VINES HAVE PURTY FLOWERS NOT GOOD FOR KENAF

"We have white, pink, and purple flowers on our 'specialty' imported 'morning-glories,' said Herman Close, field superintendent for the American Kenaf Corporation, "and they are very destructive so far as the kenaf crop is concerned. We have been forced to abandon 611 acres because the growth of vines has borne the twelve-foot kenaf stalks to the ground and otherwise tangled them so that any harvesting is impracticable."

This unusual crop of morning-glories, according to Herman Close, came in with kenaf seed grown in Cuba and imported through the CCC.

"We have fields produced from seed grown in America which are entirely free of the noxious plant," he said.

The Kenaf Plantation used all the seed grown by Indian Trunk and other Florida growers with no morning-glories, according to Ralph Ball.

No one has stated whether the morning-glory seed came as a natural result of not roguing growing fields, or from a surplus supply of the seed lying around when the bagging took place.

Demand High Short Supply At Cattle Mart

"Don't sell your cattle on last week's market," says Glades Livestock Market manager George C. Young, not meaning to pose a riddle, but announcing that livestock prices will steadily, though not spectacularly, increase from week to week, as the packers' demand for cattle is high, with supply correspondingly short.

A sale will continue to be held every Monday regardless of the holidays, Mr. Young said. Monday this week 402 cattle, 3 steers, and 3 goats went, totaling $30,825.00. The cattle included 67 calves, 77 cows, 22 heifers, 6 bulls, 166 steers, and 64 yearlings. About 67 percent went for slaughter. Prices were as follows:

LEGION TO SELL RESTAURANT HERE

"The Short Unhappy Life of the Legion Restaurant" might be the title of this story by American Legionnaires of Post 20 at their monthly meeting Tuesday, December 9, after heated discussions, to take themselves out of the restaurant business.

Accordingly, the Legion Restaurant, North Main Street above the Bridge gate, will be sold as soon as a buyer is found. The Restaurant, which opened only two months ago, has been the subject of controversy ever since. The majority of Legionnaires now feel, Commander Jack Rasmussen, that it is "unseemly" for the Legion to operate a restaurant in competition with other Legion members who depend on the business for a livelihood.

CINEMATIC CHATTER
By Malcolm Millar
Hello everybody! I'd like to talk about one of my favorite Western players, Randy Scott. This lanky sixfoot-three cowboy still weighs 190, the same as when he debuted on the screen some years ago. And for his credits his love for athletics. Before making his screen entry, Scott had been a football star and a crack swimmer at Georgia Tech. Later he became an outstanding golfer. Golfing is still his favorite sport. He has a three-stroke handicap and is the only golfer-actor to qualify for the National Open Championship. A member of the Bel Air Club team, his initials are Bing Crosby and Bob Hope. The backyard of Randy's Beverly Hills home is occupied by a giant-size swimming pool and the sandy-haired actor's car frame regularly churns its surface in the crawl and backstroke at which he excelled in college competition. Randy is one of the few stars with a gymnasium room in his home. The private gym has almost disappeared in stars' domiciles, being replaced with the rumpus room, more popular with the new screen names. Randy works out with weights, boxes, jumps rope, and does general calsthenics. "Most of my roles call for action," he states, "and by keeping fit, I can give a lot more to the portrayal." In "Champion City," which by the way is one of his best films, Scott has one of the most physically demanding roles of his career, including a fight with ten opponents, and a 240-pound man. See you at the movies. Mal.

Rice Crops, Prospects

The world rice crop in 1952-53 is expected to be the largest on record, and considerably above that of the preceding two seasons, according to present estimates of the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations. Growers have continued to increase rice acreage in virtually all areas of production, and weather so far this season, unlike that of the past two years, has been generally favorable.

The 1952-53 world harvest of rough rice is forecast at 176 million short tons, and increase of 8 million tons over last year's production. The previous post-war high was 171 million tons harvested in 1948-49.

Reports to the Department of Agriculture indicate that rice markets were active with a good demand and prices pushed closer to ceiling levels during the week ended Nov. 24. Trading in rough rice was slow in Texas and Louisiana but demand was more active for the remaining available supplies in Arkansas.

Prices of southern milled rice are now mostly at ceiling level with a good demand from both domestic and export sources. At Houston, No. 2 Rexoro was quoted at $12.00, No. 2 Century Palms and No. 2 Zentith at $11.75-12.00, and No. 2 Zentith at $10.75 per cwt. Long grain second heads sold at $8.00-8.50, short grain second heads at $7.50, screenings and brewers' rice at $7.00. Bran was quoted at $4.00-4.50 a ton and polish at $5.00-5.70 a ton.

At New Orleans No. 2 Rexoro was quoted at $12.00, No. 2 Century Palms and No. 2 Zentith at $11.75, No. 2 Zentith

$10.75, and brewers' and other broken $7.00 per cwt., f.o.b. The market continued firm at leading distribution centers, with most of the milled rice being selected against old contracts. At Charleston, S. C., new contracts were reported for No. 2 Zentith at $11.45, Zentith at 50 percent second heads at $10.14, and second heads at $8.89, delivered basis, for shipment during 60 days, buyers option, from Arkansas. At New York the market continued strong, with No. 1 Rexoro and Bluebonnet quoted at $13.50, No. 1 Zentith at $12.15, long grain second heads $9.75, short grains $9.25, screenings $8.25, and brewers' $8.00 ex-warehouse. The same varieties of all shipments were quoted about 25 cents higher per 100 pounds.

Too Late To Classify

Another successful State Chamber of Commerce convention has come to an end, and those who were fortunate enough to attend the three-day session in Jacksonville recently agree that it was outstanding in every respect.

The Florida State Chamber of Commerce, under the able management of Harold Cole, provides this state with a business and industrial leadership in playing an important part in Florida's steady growth and development.

The annual convention of the FSCC attracts top-flight executives from every walk of business and industrial life. It is the one convention of the year that brings together the leaders of every business and industry in the state.

I have not missed such a gathering for many years and can safely term the one just closed an outstanding success.

From the smoothly operating registration desk, where capable secretaries greet most everyone by name, through the business sessions and entertainment features, the affair is big time and a credit to its officers and directors, particularly Harold Cole and his efficient staff.

It would be many columns to tell in detail about the constructive program that went to the recent conference, but the talks by outstanding leaders were inspiring, reflecting what we have found in progress in the future.

Important action taken during the session included the passage of resolutions asking accelerated Federal appropriations for the Central and Southern Flood Control projects.

One resolution urged continuation of the Florida State Industrial Development Council, which Governor Warren inaugurated. In a talk before the conference later in the day Gov. Warren said that he would continue the Council in its present form.

Laurence F. Lee, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, addressed the gathering and warned business men they should not expect miracles or the impossible as a result of the change in the national administration. He pointed out that it will be up to Congress and the American people to solve "the serious problems which the election did not solve."

Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president of Stetson University, in a self-styled "blunt" keynote speech, said that Florida has far to travel before it becomes a "Premium" state. He said that to gain the position it is entitled to it must clean up its cities and highways to match the state's natural beauty, improve its colleges and public libraries to provide a cultural stimulus, take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the recent elections to rid ourselves of a socialist scoundrel and encourage citizens to take greater interest in civic and governmental affairs.

Alfred A. McKelhan, chairman of the State Road Department, termed a series of modern arterial tollpikes one of Florida's imperative needs if we are to be prepared to maintain our highways adequate to the ever-expanding need of our growing tourist and commercial travel. Banquet speaker was Donald Richberg, Washington attorney, who stated that the election of General Eisenhower was a crucial turning point in the history of the United States. He said that this nation, which has slid dangerously far toward socialism and welfare state under Trumanism, can save itself under the new president and establish again a sound responsible government that will command worldwide respect.

During the closing session Earl W. Brown of Deland was elected president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce to succeed Doyle E. Carlton of Tampa who has served during the last two years. Re-elected were James Ingraham, Jacksonville, treasurer; Ed R. Bentley, Lakeland, Joe Adams, Miami and Wilson Carraway, Tallahassee, vice presidents at large; and five district vice presidents. Walter L. Hays of Orlando was elected corporate secretary to succeed the late William L. Wilson. Two vacancies for vice presidents-at-large were filled by Baron de Hirsch Meyer, Miami, and Sam D. Summers, Lake City; 65 state directors were also named.

ALCOHOLICS CAN RECOVER

(At the request of the local secretary of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, the "Twelve Steps" for alcoholics, have been called a simple, short, and concise interpretation of the Twelve Steps for alcoholics published in previous issues.)

Admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.

HERE again we find a very logical sequence. Having analyzed ourselves we find it makes sense to do something toward righting what we have found wrong. If we have taken the Fourth Step we have already fulfilled the first and second parts of the Fifth Step requirements. For a calm diagnosis of ourselves brings out defects. So we come to one of the oldest truths in the world — a trouble shared is a trouble cut in half.

To admit our wrongs to another person may sound like an insurmountable obstacle, but actually it is very easy if we go about it in the right way. And any good AA can show the path. It does not mean that we formally sit down with someone and say: "I have done wrong in the following manner: First, I have been, etc., etc." If that were the method used, AA would not be the great organization it is today.

The AA member will pave the way by first telling his story. The newcomer will be amazed at his frankness, at the ease with which he tells of usually unmentioned escapades. He will tell how often he has acted against his family, or how he spent weeks of his life in jail for institutions, of dishonesties, of lies and surferages; the whole sorry picture.

One or two conversations like this and the newcomer will like this to unburden himself. Things that he thought he would never tell a living soul start to come out. And as he shares his secrets his mind becomes unburdened of the terrific weight he has been carrying.

He literally gets his troubles off his chest, and one reason for drinking—drinking to forget—immediately disappears. It is at this point that real sobriety begins. Nor can an alcoholic be safe until he has unburdened himself. He begins to feel that he "belongs." And after he has stood up in public, leading his first meeting, he then feels that he is a full-fledged member. The newcomer is definitely progressing and is ready for the next two steps, which are grouped together in explanation and interpretation.

SIXTH STEP
We're entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

SEVENTH STEP
Humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings.

IT IS VERY likely that we will willingly take the Sixth Step. As we scan the faces of our new friends in AA we see something we want. We see a peace, serenity, and happiness. We have been harassed of the lesser planets. And then by fear of losing our jobs, fear of divorce, fear of creditors, in fact, fears without end. We feel small and humble. And it is with that attitude that you should ask God to remove your shortcomings.

To be humble is not to grovel before men. It is not to become a doormat for society.

Yet, while in the flesh we are but infinitesimal specks, always remember that the very essence of the Christian religion is that we cannot bargain with God. In the most precious thing in the world, in the very least of us, is a little spark of the divine.

It is that divinity that makes us rise above the lower animals. Humility is based on the recognition that we are the children of God. It is the consciousness of the fact of a power greater than our own, and a help, ask for guidance. Ask merely to be shown the way, so that you can do your own part. As we said earlier in this book, let us ask for guidance for the next two steps, which are grouped together in explanation and interpretation.

Da, this humbly, humility is sometimes difficult to attain. In our cups we were big shots. They were all out of step but Jim. Try to remember that regardless of who you are, you are but a tiny cog in the great universe. Look at a distant star at night. Remember that it took the light from that star a century or more to reach the earth. Remember the star on which everything we want. We see you gaze could probably swallow the sun without noticing it. Consider that the earth is one of the lesser planets. And then by fear of losing our jobs, fear of divorce, fear of creditors, in fact, fears without end. We feel small and humble. And it is with that attitude that you should ask God to remove your shortcomings.

willingness to let that power control our lives. Very simply put, humility is teachability, an open mind to the truth.

And when we can bring ourselves to this state, our recovery is well under way.

EIGHTH STEP
Made a list of all persons we had harmed, and became willing to make amends to them all.

the private observation that it wouldn't happen again, that it wouldn't happen again, but it did!

"When Ross was transferred to the glass milking pen, a cobra got caught on the snake hook. While Ross was busy shaking it off, an Eastern Diamondback rattlesnake, from the opposite corner of the pen, sprang a sneak attack, and made a high lightning strike into the side of his right leg, opposite the knee cap, some 2 1/2 inches above the snake-proof leather boot he wears for protection. Measurement of the boot showed the total height of the strike to be 21 inches. Ross was not lecturing at the time and the few people who were watching hardly realized what had happened as he quietly let the snake pen and stepped into the laboratory where he instantly began first aid. Within a few minutes he was rushed to the hospital."

"Ross had to spend 22 days in the hospital before he could return home where he is now recuperating and showing improvement. Today as this is written, I have just learned some details which I will pass on, as told to me by Ross," states Evernia Phillips, Ross's secretary.

"This was the worst snake bite in the history of the Reptile Institute. Due to the great quantity of venom injected, different and heretofore unexplained symptoms were experienced."

"Twenty-five minutes after the bite Reeves could not walk and it was difficult to breathe. Every muscle in his body jumped and twitched spasmodically, due to the neurotic effect of the venom. This continued for five days and was the most dreadful and exhausting experience."

"We are frequently asked by visitors to the Reptile Institute how many times Ross Allen has been bitten by poisonous snakes," the story begins, continuing: "and when we answered 'nine' it was with any of his many injuries. The venomous snake, which caused his right leg to swell and turn black from the ankle to the hip, was a beautiful fifth day, which the doctor said was the most critical. Ross was too weak to talk. The venomous snake effect also caused an amemic condition by the fourth day, in spite of four blood transfusions on the fifth day. Like a miracle, a marked improvement was evident. Ross said he has learned a great deal about treatment of snake bite as two new experiments were carried out during his treatment. His complete recovery is certain, although it will be gradual."

"His physician has advised a rest of three months before Ross returns to his business and usual activities. When a complete report is available, it will be a valuable and dramatic story (Editor's note—this is a valuable and dramatic story) and I think the person who can tell it best is the one who fought through the experience. When Ross is completely well and his griping tale, if reading it, serves to impress just a few people that rattlesnakes are a dangerous antagonist, and that rattlesnake bite is a terrible thing, then much good will have been done."

"This report by Evernia Phillips is indeed a remarkable gripping tale. If reading it serves to impress just a few people that rattlesnakes are a dangerous antagonist, and that rattlesnake bite is a terrible thing, then much good will have been done."

"I am nearing the end of my long fall vacation tour in Florida during which I have had the privilege of chatting with a great many of our home-folks who are fine and patriotic citizens. As I have said repeatedly, this is the most refreshing part of public service and I believe I have made an insight into what the people back home are thinking about the major issues of the day."

There is nothing which occupies the public mind and conscience as does the Korean War. Folks are interested in ending this thing, whether you call it all out war or police action. People are looking to our national leadership to end this conflict through honorable negotiation or through victory. They care no sense in letting it go on as it has for most of the past two years. The folks back here are also deeply interested in lightening the burdens of government and they expect Congress during the coming session to take steps leading in that direction.

NOTES FROM HERE AND THERE: Beside Scotty Peck of my Washington staff, Jim Townsley who rendered yeoman service in the 1950 campaign has been travelling with me and meeting many friends on those exciting days. At Panama City I called on Mrs. George of the Bay County Citizens who has been so kind about running my column and was sorry to find her out of town. It was a treat being with a luncheon group to which "Uncle Joe" Williams was host. In visiting Port St. Joe, enjoying seeing many friends and the new State Representative Cecil Conlin, Jr., former Senator Joe Shart, Senator George Tapper, Jake Belin and many others. "Harbor Day" at Apalachicola was a great event and I was grateful for the fine arrangements made for us by my old friends Nick George and Jack Zook, Neel Creekmore and others; Mr. Hendrickson took me through his test factory where I talked with all the ninety people who seek death in keeping this industry going and providing the jobs for many of our people. Congressman Sikes gave me a generous introduction when I spoke to the "Harbor Day" crowd. All of us relished the sweet succulent oysters that were laid out for us and I think ate 4 or 5 dozen before we got to the fish fry. Frank Perola of the Panama City News staff covered some of my visit in this area and it was a pleasure to have him and his lovely wife along. At Madison, Curry Merchant had helped arrange a fine breakfast where I had the pleasure also of seeing Dale Leslie, Francis Phillips and many others to and observe the operation of a splendid new industry in the area, manufacture of body trim for the big automobile companies. This operation demonstrates how agriculture and industrial development is blending in this part of the state. At Lake City, J. L. McMillen arranged a speaking engagement which I shared with Farley Bryant of Ocala who will be the next Speaker of the Florida House. It was good to see him again. Suwannee County is the biggest hog raising county in the state and I was glad to learn about the implications of the state ban on pork (since lifted) and to get other lessons in a visit to the livestock market on the Suwannee River. At Lake City had a splendid meeting with Jim Wilson and Shack Shuckelford; was very sorry to miss Max Brown who was ill but I talked to his wife. We had a fine meeting and I was gratified that 190 people came out to hear and have a meal strong against the "George Smathers Day" of the next day and wished I had not eaten that fifth dozen oysters. Recovered in time to make an engagement at Starke and it was a privilege to be with Kap Duncan, Mayor Wainwright and Doyle Conners, Florida's youngest state representative. After an early morning breakfast meeting, went on to Gainesville. Mayor Roy Purvis had generously designated "I" as "George Smathers Day" and I tried to live up to the honor in my appearance before the joint meeting of all the civic clubs. That night was guest of Mark Hawes and addressed the Marine Corp League banquet. Sorry won't be able to be in Gainesville next Friday (December 5) to be with the Eighth district congressional caucus in observance of "Billy Matthews Day." More next week.

loss of property was incident to the serviceman's service and death on or after December 7, 1939.

Under the old provisions survivor's claims were not approved because the survivor acquired no right to recovery. Claims must be filed by the deceased serviceman's spouse, child or children, father, mother, sister or brothers prior to July 3, 1953 in those cases where death did not occur prior to July 3, 1952. Where death and loss occurred after July 3, 1952, claims must be submitted within 2 years after the date of serviceman's death.

The new law also made several changes in the consideration of claims of Military Personnel and Civilian Employees for damage or loss, destruction, capture, or abandonment of personal property occurring incident to their service, or to replace such personal property in kind. A limit of $2,500 is placed on new claims, arising since December 7, 1939, to be filed in 2 years from date of damage or loss, or one year from July 3, 1952, whichever is later.

Navy men or their survivors may get "Claim Form NAVCEN 50" from Bureau of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Arlington Navy Annex, Washington 25, D. C.

A BUSY UNIVERSITY IS U OF FLORIDA

It didn't take the University of Florida long to recover from a brief Thanksgiving Holiday. Students returned to regular classes and also found many other events on a crowded calendar this week in Gainesville. Monday they heard an address by the famed poet, essayist and playwright W. H. Auden; Tuesday there was a talk by Frank Shea, Col. and Life Bureau Chief; and Wednesday a talk by Col. H. C. Gee.

But today and Saturday will be the most crowded of all still on the side there will be a Graduate Accounting Conference, and meetings of the Florida Academy of Science and the Junior Academy of Science. So, really, there will be annual Fall Frolics to dance featuring Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra (both days) and a football game Saturday afternoon between Florida and Kentucky.
